RAY ISLE

What Ray's Pouring Now Executive Wine Editor Ray Isle's favorite things to drink this month

2015 HEITZ CELLAR GRIGNOLINO ($23)

Napa Valley's Heitz has been making this light, strawberry-scented red—from a truly obscure Italian variety—for decades now. It's one of my summertime go-tos and is great when chilled down slightly.

2016 PACHERHOF KERNER ($27)

I always gravitate to northern Italian whites during the summer months, particularly from the Alto Adige region. This is a recent favorite, with a scent of fresh-cut peaches and bright, lively acidity. Bring on the grilled shrimp. Or scallops. Or salmon...

KING'S ROW COFFEE KING'S BREW NITRO COLD BREW ($10/2 CANS)

Chef Craig Shelton and coffee impresario Sam Sabky teamed up to create this creamy nitro cold brew—newly available in cans. Pro tip from the booze editor: Add a shot of Kahlúa and a little cream. Zero regrets.
